With many completed projects located locally and nationally, Dimensional Innovations (dimin.com) is a multi-disciplinary design-assist / design and specialty fabrication firm located in Overland Park. From the 25' book bindings that clad the downtown Kansas City Library to the new 94' long interactive Sprint Media Wall located in the new Sprint Center, DI's mission is to translate our customer's ideas and create them into reality.

Since 2006 Dimensional Innovations has employed a specific bottom line growth strategy. Paying less attention to top line growth, DI has built a disciplined manufacturing culture focusing on growing awareness and attention to production performance, efficiencies and processes, with a large emphasis on team-building and a culture of inclusion. Transparency of financial performance, performance incentive programs, and aggressive recruiting and staff retention strategies have all played a big part in our successes over the last three years. Our success in bottom line growth continues to build a better performing team and created more top line growth than we could have expected. Dimensional Innovations was named one of the "2008 Top 10 Small Business" by the Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce and a "2008 Best Companies to Work For" by Ingram's Magazine.
